IT IS GALA DAY IN MARYVILLE

OLD SOL LOOKED OUT ON CURIOUS CROWD.

HAVE SPLENDID PARADE

Many Good Stunts in Afternoon Performance—Nelsons Make a Hit—The Sheik Here.

Old Sol poked his brazen nose over the horizon this morning as he has done for ages. He grinned friendly like on the multitude that stood sleepy eyed about the Wabash yards. And it was indeed a beautiful summer sunrise, attended with all the glories and colors of a wonderful morning.

Eagerly they watched the unloading of the John Robinson's Circus. And how each wagon was "lamped" as it rolled down the runs. Had eyes been gimlets, this fair morning—well the wagons marked wild beasts would have been bored like a sieve. But, oh, human nature. One fellow was seen trying to watch the elephants and still ask a ouija board if it was gone, beautiful ladies astride superb no, for with the spirit board tucked under his arm he trudged off with a contented smile behind the string of elephants and camels that were headed to the Harrison field.

Reinforced by late comers, and those who had grown weary of the process of unloading, the staid Harrison field became a crowded mecca for those that believe in missing nothing. However, there were few that could resist the delicious smells of bacon and eggs and coffee that were being served in the large dining tent. Well, the crowd thinned, seeking like reinforcements.

But they were back with all those who missed the bing-bong of the alarm clock to pack and jam, to talk and watch, to seek the shade, to keep mincing up and down.

And the parade was worth while. Open dens, massive goldleafed wagons, beautiful ladies astride superb horses, bands, gay and syncopating, tooting calliopes, playing for the next county's benefit, and well...a mile of fairyland ended with elephants tail to trunk and trunk to tail, trying to beg peanuts. Worth the seeing? Indeed.

And then the afternoon performance. It got away to a flying start with a two and one half hour program, and a tremendous audience. And never once did the tempo pause. All of which makes it rather hard to say which were the best acts. There was something to please everybody.

Of course there were features. And one, well, this is about the Nelson family. Seven sprightly bits of chrysanthemum bobbed haired lassies, that smile, and flipflop. Flipflop their way straight to the hearts of everyone. Four generations, they sing, they walk the silver wire and dance. And if you don't like 'em...but then you will. And too there's the Ward troupe. Most of their time is spent in brewing thrills.

Then Sheik too has come to life. Fourteen of 'em dark skinned swarthy young men, from the lands of the burning sands. (Girls you'll fall for 'em) And they unquestionably have all ways of walking patented. That is all ways that you don't use you feet.

For horsemanship, there's Madame Bedini. The world's greatest horsewoman, says the posters. And there's contortionists, gymnastic, acrobatic and equilibristic marvels galore.

The animal acts, the tons of elephants and well two and one-half hours of wonders, that can be seen with the John Robinson's Circus. You can't begin to think when it's going to end, but it does away late in the afternoon.

FIRE DESTROYS SIDDENS HOUSE HOLD FURNITURE

Origin Is Unknown—House Owned by Bert Williams—Some Insurance on Furniture.

The household furniture of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Siddens was practically all destroyed by fire when the house in which they were living on South Mattie street burned about 10 o'clock this morning.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. and Mrs. Siddens had just driven from their home in a car and had started to town to see the circus parade. When they reached the top of the hill about two blocks from the house they had engine trouble and while investigating that, they noticed that their house was ablaze.

Mr. Siddens said that they had insurance on the furniture, but not enough to cover the loss. It is estimated that the insurance would cover about one-fourth of the loss.

The house was owned by Bert Williams and had recently been vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Blacketer. Mr. and Mrs. Siddens moved into the property about ten days ago.

Mrs. Siddens fainted and was taken to one of the neighbor's, where she was kept while the house was burning.

SEVERAL MERCHANTS RAISED MONEY FOR PARADE

Was Necessary to Raise $50 Before Circus Parade Could Show This Morning

The city license for a circus parade is $100 and when the management of the circus heard of this fee they refused to pay it. Several merchants who heard about the matter immediately raised $50 for that purpose, the circus company putting up the other $50.

The circus management says this is an excessive license for a circus parade and only a few towns in the country charged such an amount.

MANY PHASES OF FARM WORK NOW

ALFALFA HAY, TIMOTHY AND STILL SOME CORN TO PLOW.

FIELDS BADLY WASHED

Some Have Had to Reset Their Shocks of Wheat—Trouble with Oats Harvest.

Farmers throughout the county have many phases of work on at this time. The corn has practically all been laid by but a few have late planted fields that they expect to get over another time. A heavy crust has been formed in the fields by the rains and a few may go through the tall corn another time with single horse plows to break the crust so that the moisture will stay.

Considerable damage was done in many places by the rain although the farms may not have been along any stream that overflowed sufficient to do much damage. Tons and tons of soil were washed away.

The damage was not as great, however, as it would have been had the rain came early in the spring before the ground was so full of roots to hold the soil.

Many of the farmers are taking care of their second crop of alfalfa and others are winding up their harvest of timothy hay.

Along with this it is threshing time and most of the machines in the county are at work. In many cases it has been necessary to reset the shocks of grain on account of the fact that they were so wet from the rain.

A. S. Watson.

A. S. Watson, who lives two miles west of town, was busy yesterday putting up his second crop of alfalfa. He is storing it away in his barn. Mr. Watson does not raise any small grain. He had out a pretty good sized patch of melons but has had a lot of trouble with bugs on the vines. The cantaloupes are large and almost ripe, but is doubtful if the crop will amount to much. The bugs have not attacked the cucumbers much. Mr. Watson keeps about ten cows and sells the cream.

Mrs. Watson raises pure bred Barrowed Rock chickens and has a fine looking flock. She has about 200 young ones.

There will be a pretty good crop of peaches at the farm this year.

Emmett Scott.

Emmett Scott has 20 acres of barley at his farm, about three and a half miles west of Maryville. Not much barley is raised in the county and Mr. Scott's crop is rather unusual. He has had to reset all his barley and wheat shocks since the rain, in order that they may dry out.

Mr. Scott has finished his second cutting of alfalfa and the third crop is growing nicely.

C. C. Moon.

C. C. Moon finished yesterday putting up 18 acres of hay at his farm three miles west of Maryville. The crop was not quite as good as it was last year but made probably 16 to 17 tons. About two-thirds of the crop was on the ground at the time the big rain came and was damaged considerably. In fact some of it was washed clear away.

Mr. Moon has 35 acres of corn, four acres of which was planted June 4. He expects to plow this last planting another time. Some of the corn was overflowed after the big rain. It has straightened up and Mr. Moon thinks that it was not hurt so much. The soil was washed considerably.

Mr. Moon has forty head of spring pigs.

Mrs. Moon has 140 Rhode Island hens

TOURIST ALMOST WANTS TO STAY

BOY POLAND BREEDER

Expects to Stop Here as He Comes Back and Visit the Bellows Herd.

"Things look so good that you could almost sell me a farm somewhere here close to Maryville," said S. J. Tucker of Wichita, Kan., just after he had completed his supper last night at the tourist park.

Mr. Tucker owns 5,000 acres of land in Kansas and Oklahoma and knows good land and a good country when he sees it. He and Mrs. Tucker, their daughter, Beulah, and son, Joe, are on their way to the lakes in Minnesota for a fishing and vacation trip. They are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Pearson and their children, Homer, Bernice, Dorothy and Frances, of Kansas City. The party is traveling in a big Marmon, a Buick sedan and a Buick roadster.

Mr. Pearson keeps his family in Kansas City on account of the school advantages there, while he himself has business at Personia, Okla. Mr. Pearson's grandfather, William Pearsen, was for many years a blacksmith in Maryville and is buried here. Mr. Pearson's father, Joseph Pearson, worked for his father in the shop here when he was a young man. Mr. Pearson says, however, that this is the first time that he has ever been in Maryville.

Mr. Tucker is a breeder of Hereford cattle and his son, Joe, although only a boy of 15 years, is the largest Poland-China hog breeder in Kansas. He has 300 head. The annual sale will be held at Wichita October 16.

Mr. Tucker said that he had heard a great deal about the Bellows herd of cattle here and that he wanted to see it. He thought that he would stop in Maryville for a longer stay as he comes back from Minnesota and that he would go to see the cattle.

Mr. Tucker believes that the way to care properly for a community is to take care of the people who are there. If you offer the best of things that can be secured for the people of a community you need have no fear about others coming. You need make no effort to get them to come. They will just do it of their own accord.

He believes that the best of things are offered to the people of this community and he himself is almost tempted to stay here.

Mr. Tucker and his family passed the night at the Linville Hotel while Mr. Person and his family pitched a tent at the park and slept there.

FREDERICK DEMOSS, 11 YEARS OLD, DIES TODAY

Had Been in Ill Health Since Last November—Funeral Tomorrow Afternoon

Frederick DeMoss, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeMoss died at 1 o'clock this morning at the family residence on South Walnut street, following an illness since last November. The body will lie in state at the residence between 10 o'clock and 12 o'clock tomorrow morning. Later in the month, however, there was a recurrence of the trouble and since then he had gradually grown weaker.

He was born on October 11, 1910, in Stanberry where he lived until the family moved to Maryville about five years ago. Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister, Elizabeth seven years old. DEMOCRATS ARE URGED TO VOTE

AN APPEAL SENT BY DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE.

TO GET OUT A BIG VOTE

Will You Be One of 4,000 Democrats to Cast a Vote on Primary Election Day?

The Democratic County Committee is sending out letters to the Democratic voters over the county to urge them to vote at the primary election on Tuesday, August 1. The committee is anxious to get as big a vote out at the primary as possible. They are setting their figures at a vote of 4,000.

The appeal to the Democrats is not made in the interest of any one candidate but simply to get an expression at the primary from as many Democrats as possible as to whom they are wanting as their candidates.

The letter follows:

Kind friend:

The Democratic committee desires to call your attention to the fact that on August 1st we will nominate a ticket for the various state and county offices, to be elected this fall. In this time of our country's need, it is imperative that every Democrat go to the polls on that day and assist in nominating the best ticket possible.

We are, therefore, asking the Democracy of this county to put at least four thousand votes in the ballot boxes on the 1st of August. This has never been done at a Primary before, but should this be done, such an interest will be aroused that it will start the campaign right off from the primary.

We know that you want the best citizens possible in office. It is therefore, your duty, not only as a Democrat, but as a citizen of our great state and county, to choose those officers. You cannot have a part in that unless you take the time and go to the polls on August 1st. It may take a little of your valuable time, but we ask you, can you afford to spend this time and perform a duty both to your party and to your country? Will you be one of the four thousand democrats to cast a vote on that day? This is a challenge to you.

If you have a car, find the Democrats in your community who are without such transportation, take them to the polls. Vote for the candidate whom you think will best serve the party and country and thereby have a voice in the nation's and country's welfare.

We are depending on you as one of the four thousand.

Very kindly,

Dan R. Baker, Chairman Democratic Central Committee.

Ellis G. Cook, Secretary Democratic Central Committee.

10,000 MORE MEN TO QUIT MINES

GOVERNORS MAKE PROMPT REPLIES TO PRESIDENT HARDING

NO ACTION IN ILLINOIS

State Laws Require That Licensed Miners Be Employed for Protection to All

Washington, July 19.—Ten thousand maintenance miners, stationary engineers and pumpers in the idle mines to prevent ruin will leave their jobs, placing the mines at the mercy of the waters. If strike breakers are employed, the United Mine Workers headquarters announced only licensed engineers are eligible to work in Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois and the men are hard to replace.

Washington July 19.—Responses from the governors of twenty-eight producing states began coming in at the White House. President Harding said he was well pleased with the promptness of the executives who responded and the tone of their replies assured support.

Springfield, Ill., July 19. — Acting Governor Sterling declared he would take no action on the President's orders to reopen the coal mines until the situation was fully considered by the state officials. He says the problem is too great for hasty judgment.

The President's order to reopen the mines is of no effect in Illinois, Director Robert Medill of the mines and minerals department declared. The state law requires employment of licensed coal miners to prevent mining of a considerable amount of coal of vast mine chambers in the southern section of the state and to endanger the lives of inexperienced men.

Jefferson City, July 19. — Governor Hyde replying to the President's appeal for co-operation to protect the mines and railroads, declared he would take immediate steps to have the production in the mining industry resumed in Missouri and to protect and safeguard those engaged. He announced a reply formally when he had complete data on the coal situation of the state.

Washington, Pa., July 19.—Sheriff Luellen with a detachment of the state police dispersed a mob of striking miners assembled a second time for an attack on the Wilson mine at Cokeburg Junction. Several shots were fired at the mine when the officers arrived. The mob dispersed without casualty.

Chicago, July 19.—Although no definite plan was made the belief prevails adjustment of the railroad strike is pending through offer of the labor board to give questions of revision of wage scale right way when the petitions are presented. THE WAR DEBTS.

It is somewhat disheartening to read of the heavy mortgage placed on the world by the war debts, and those of a pessimistic turn of mind will say that this burden can't be carried. They can show, for instance, where before the war, the debts of Europe amounted to only 6 per cent of the wealth, and now they amount up to the staggering total of 65 per cent. This country is of course in better shape and yet our debts must be at least 10 per cent of the national wealth.

But the greatest resource in any nation, is the existing wealth. It is human labor. That is not mortgaged, it is just as free of financial liens as before the war. Its productive power, if handled rightly, ought to be greater, because the war stimulated human initiative that led to new enterprises.

If a man has a 65 per cent mortgage on his property, that does not mean that his situation need be bad. If he still has his working power, he can earn enough to pay the interest and get ahead. So it will be with the world now struggling with its debts. They are indeed heavy, but not too heavy to be borne successfully, if the different elements in each nation will only co-operate and pull together.

Delay In Turnover.

Delay in turnover costs American business $11,500,000 every day, says the Irving National Bank of New York. It figures that the total amount of production in this country in a year is $70,000,000,000 and interest on this sum amounts for one day to $11,500,000. If there is needless delay in getting goods from producer to consumer, or in paying for goods purchased, the working capital of the country is tied up and unutilized.

Quick sales and distribution create rapid circulation of money, so that more people can be kept at work and the total of wages paid will be greater. Business bustle and advertising are the great forces tending to make the process of trade work smoothly and promptly.

M'CAFFERY RECEIVES AN UNSIGNED LETTER

Complaint Made About Insurance Men Getting Men Drunk—McCaffrey Offers Reward.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey has received a letter which was not signed complaining of two insurance men getting three parties drunk. The names of the parties were enclosed. The letter read:

Prosecuting Attorney.

Dear Sir: Is there no law protecting us from these insurance agents, such as ——— and ——— going around selling insurance and getting the men drunk and then sell the insurance to them. July 10 they got three men drunk and two of these had families. The men were ———, ——— and ———. All within a quarter of a mile. If in doubt go ask these people two miles east of Arkoe.

In commenting on this letter, Mr. McCaffrey said:

"It is unfair to me and no help whatever for a person to white a letter such as this one and fail to sign it. If the person who wrote the letter will come to me and give me substantial evidence, such as will be received in a court, leading to the arrest of the person named in the letter, I shall personally pay him a reward of $25."

Some improvements are to be made at the Bainum Hotel, as soon as the new management takes charge. The Nixson Bros. say that they expect to cater especially to banquets and dinner parties.

Nixson Bros. came to Maryville from St. Louis two and a half years ago.

CIRCUS WISHES

Harrison's field near the edge of town
Only as our playground, ever won renown.
That is until today, when loads of circus tents
Came up over night. Don't they look immense?

And now there's joy in town, for everywhere
You can see cages of wild beasts, and hear gay bands flare,
And dainty equestriennes leisurely ride,
Up our Main street and on milk white steeds— astride!

While wagon loads of funny clowns, joke and play
Making laughs grow up our way,
And elephants with houses on their back, slowly plod
Begging peanuts, with their trunks for a hod.

After the parade, I thought sitting high on a seat
I could sit for a year, and never want to eat,
Just watching the beautiful ladies in tights,
The animals, the clowns, 'cause forever there's something in sight.

And Oh! I'd like to be the little boy,
That flipflopped with his seven sisters coy,
For it must be heaven to always play
At play'in, ever day.

A PLEASANT PLACE FOR GENTLE FOLKS.

U. S. Scientists Make Tea From Holly Leaves

The government bureau of chemistry has found that the leaves of a variety of holly, or "Christmas berry tree," when properly prepared, make an excellent tea. They contain nearly 2 per cent of caffeine, which is the active and stimulating principle of both tea and coffee. This holly tree grows wild and flourishes in all the Atlantic and gulf states from Virginia to the Rio Grande. It is commonly used for ornamental hedges, being ever green and beautiful with berries in winter. In earlier days southern housewives used holly leaves for tea. The bureau of chemistry thinks it might be worth while to cultivate the plant for that purpose. The hedge trimmings could certainly be utilized to advantage.

RESTRAINS MUNICIPAL COAL YARDS FROM SELLING COAL

Osteopath Needed.

Two baseball teams, composed of shipyard workers, were one day playing baseball in Wilmington. In the height of the struggle one made a stupid play at second base. A few minutes later his side came to bat and this player stepped to the plate for his turn. He was hit by a pitched ball and knocked senseless.

His teammates dashed water on him, stood him up and laid him down, the crowd offering all kinds of advice meanwhile. Finally the captain asked for a doctor. One of the rival team asked:

"You want an osteopath, don't you?"

"What are you talking about? Why an osteopath?"

Alaska May Solve Wood Problem.

Alaska alone is said to have wood enough to fill one-third of the newsprint need of the nation. There are 56,000 acres of fine lumber available, most of which is spruce and hemlock and the remainder is pine. Alaska's gold will probably vanish before her wood supply is exhausted. There are forty varieties of wood which will soon become marketable by the opening up of transportation facilities.

THRESHING PRETTY WELL UNDERWAY IN COUNTY

Machines Are Running in Several Sections—Dowden's Crop Making 30 Bushels

Threshing is pretty well under way in the different parts of Nodaway County this week. Machines are busy near Maryville, Arkoe and in the Myrtle Tree neighborhood today.

John Dowden of the Myrtle Tree neighborhood began threshing today and says that his wheat is turning out on an average of about thirty bushels to the acre. Ernest Wray in the same neighborhood planned on threshing yesterday and today.

A threshing crew began work at the John Gates farm today and will perhaps complete the work there this afternoon and move to the C. A. Hopp farm tomorrow. The yield of Mr. Gates wheat has not been determined but he says that it is turning out better than he had expected.

Ed Bolin, southwest of Arkoe is threshing about 30 acres of his today and says that it is turning out about twenty-five bushels to the acre. Work began on this farm yesterday and will perhaps be completed this afternoon and the machine will move to the farm of J. D. Bolin.

W. S. Wendle, near Arkoe, threshed some of his wheat yesterday which had been damaged both by the Hessian fly and the flood water of One Hundred and Two River.

A machine is working on the farm of Curtis Robinson and will move to the George Barmann farm this evening.

Are You the Man Who "Never Reads Advertisements"?

Some men, who are neither blind nor illiterate, claim sincerely that they "never read advertisements."

Yet, if you could investigate, in each case you would find that the man who "never reads advertisements" used an advertised tooth paste or shaving cream or soap. If he owns an automobile it will be an advertised car. If you ask his opinion of any automobile he will reply in words that might have been lifted bodily from an advertisement of that automobile.

Advertising has formed his opinions to a great degree. He may have received his information through others who obtained their knowledge from advertising. But it is a fact that no man can escape the effect of advertising even if he does say he "never reads advertisements."

Not one of us ever reasoned out entirely from his own mind that the earth is round. If we had not read it or heard it we would never have known it.

In these days of good, truthful, helpful advertising to say, "I never read advertisements" is merely your way of saying, "I don't read all advertisements."

FROM THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Jefferson City, July 15—With the Constitutional Convention rounding into its third month matters are beginning to take shape, and out of the mass of propositions that have been submitted from within and without, the committees are gradually separating the wheat from the chaff and some of them will soon be ready to submit their reports and recommendations to the Convention as a whole. It is confidently predicted that at least one report will be ready for consideration by July 20, at the latest.

The past two months have been exceedingly busy ones for the members of the Constitutional Convention, though but little has been said as to what they were doing. As announced at the outset the detail work of the convention has been in the hands of the committees which have been considering the propositions as they were presented. July 1 was set as a deadline for receiving proposals and at that time 329 had been presented. Until all were in the hands of the proper committees it was impossible to make much headway. Hearings occupied a great deal of time, delegations and individuals appearing for or against many of the proposals submitted, thus delaying consideration by the committees to an appreciable extent.

Of the 329 proposals received by the convention suggesting changes in the present constitution, or additions thereto, it is safe to say that less than 20 per cent will be reported in the form presented and few of the multitude of suggestions will be used. Some of them have no place in the constitution, being rather matters for legislative consideration. A few matters will probably be reported in substance as presented with recommendations for or against adoption. Many of the proposals are similar in form and the best suggestions from these may be used in making up the final draft as submitted by the committees.

The Committee on Taxation has some of the most difficult problems in the whole convention to solve and is spending many hours a day in their consideration. Up to the time of the Fourth of July recess a constant procession of delegations and individuals appeared before the committee to plead for or protest against some proposal that had been presented and it is only during the past week that the committee has really been able to consider the proposals as a whole. Of the 68 proposals before this committee 25 have been considered unfavorable but they will still be open for hearings and may be treated favorably at a later time. Only a few have been decided favorably and the rest have been passed to later consideration.

A favorable tentative vote has been taken to exempt from taxation bonds, not only of the state but of municipalities, school districts or other political subdivisions. It is contended that these securities should be made as attractive for investors as government securities, which are tax free and enjoy a low rate of interest.

Sixty-five proposals have been referred to the committee on Preamble, Boundaries, Bill of Rights and Distribution of Powers. To set at rest the fears of those who think this may spell a radical revision of the bill of rights, it may be confidently stated that the committee as a whole favors the least possible change from the present most excellent document. As the consideration of all changes in the constitution may hinge on the action of this committee it is bending every energy to complete its work as early as possible. To that end it is meeting daily at 4 p. m. in addition to the regular morning sessions on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

"The reading of the Bible shall not be excluded from the public schools of this state," reads proposition No. 87, and at a hearing before the Bill of Rights Committee William S. Fleming of the National Reform Association urged the adoption of this new section. He did not advocate a law for compulsory Bible reading in the schools, though he pointed out that such laws had been passed by seven states and the city of New York and were being observed without objection from any religious sect. The new constitution of the state of Illinois, to be voted on in November, contains a provision for the reading of selections from the Bible in the public schools.

Should moving pictures enjoy the same privileges as the press in freedom of speech in picture expression? The moving picture producers are urging a section in the constitution that will contain such a provision. Mr. Fleming of the National Reform Association, who is also on the board of censors in the city of Chicago, appeared before the Bill of Rights Committee to urge that no such provision should be made. He called attention to a decision of the United States Supreme Court in which it stated specifically that moving pictures could not be classed with the press, but were in the same category with theatres, circuses and other forms of amusements. Mr. Fleming's contention was that they should be controlled and regulated by legislative enactment.

The Committee on Education has under consideration plans for some kind of a Board of Education, one proposition being to have the board to elect the state superintendent of public instruction. Superintendent Sam A. Baker appeared before the committee against the proposition and urged the retention of the present system. He suggested, however, that the office could be taken out of politics by having the election in April on non-partisan nomination papers. John M. Atkinson of St. Louis appeared for the proposition of a State Board of Education, declaring that the present system was antiquated and the present ex-officio board a joke. The committee seems to favor a provision for a board, but is not sure that it favors changing the present system of electing the state superintendent.

Labor delegations from St. Louis and Kansas City appeared before the committee on agriculture, conservation and industry to protest against the adoption of a proposal providing for a board of arbitration, which might be appointed by the legislature in case employes and their employers both asked for it in writing. The objection of the labor representatives was to the final clause in which the arbitration board would be given power to compel attendance on hearings and to inflict punishment for contempt.

Representatives of the St. Louis City firemen appeared before the Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns, asking that no revision be made of section 47, Article IV, of the constitution permitting municipalities to aid in the relief of injured or disabled firemen and the widows and children, as suggested in a proposal submitted by Mr. McCluer of Jackson. They said that they were satisfied with the law as it now stands and that it was working out to the satisfaction of the cities of St. Louis and Kansas City where it applied.

The constitutional convention is now meeting daily at 9 a. m. instead of at 2 o'clock as at first arranged. This plan is working well as many of the committees have morning meetings and meet after the conventions adjourns. When the first committee is ready to report the convention will probably continue in session until noon resolving itself into a committee of the whole to discuss committee reports. Then the committees that have still more work to do will hold meetings in the afternoon and evening until all are through. The convention will then be able to hold all day sessions.

After sitting in committee hearings for a few days one must be convinced that the convention is composed of a remarkable group of men and women who may well be trusted to represent the people in this most important task of revising the basic law of the state. Coming in equal number from the two dominant political parties they have subordinated party politics and are working together with the fixed purpose of giving the people an instrument that will be a credit to the commonwealth of Missouri. New constitutions of other states and the records of other constitutional conventions are being studied to find the effect of propositions of similar nature to those before this convention. It has taken time, but is considered time well spent when it is remembered that the constitution now written may be the fundamental law of the state for fifty or a hundred years.

One of the committee chairman probably voiced the sentiment of nine-tenths of the members when he said the other day that he was ready at the time the convention met to write the entire constitution, but that after two months' consideration and getting the views of his fellow members he was not so sure of himself. He had changed his own views on many subjects and was sure that the instrument to be submitted as a composite of the various suggestions submitted would be far superior to the one he would have written at the outset.

60 HEAD OF HORSES AT MAITLAND READY FOR FAIR

Management Has for Three Months Been Getting Ready for Event—to Take Place July 25-28.

After three months of hard work and at a great expense, the management of the Maitland Fair, to be held at Maitland, July 25-26-27-28, have induced owners of the best racing stables in the West to come to Maitland and compete in the Races to be held there during the Fair. Parties who were at the Spring Races at Omaha will find all their old favorites running here, as there are already sixty head here all comfortably settled and a great many more on the way, who won from one to three Races at the big Spring Meet at Omaha.

The Race track has the appearance of a small city, with the horses all taking their morning exercise, and the boy that takes care of the little bay mare from New Orleans, singing his song of the Cotton Blossoms and calling the little mare names that would make you think that he was talking to his best girl. In the next stable the man from Illinois was having the black smith shoe his horse, and at the same time was telling the smithy how fast he can run and how far he would beat the field. In the next stable we found a big stallion munching his hay, lazily switching his tail and tossing his head as if the proudest horse in the world, and he has good cause to be proud as he had the distinction of winning more races at the Big Meetings than any other horse there. In the next barn is the stable of three that are owned in Iowa, all three winners, one that won four races at Mexico City last winter. Next was a stable from Nebraska, one horse of which is a full brother of the best Handicap horse at New Orleans. Then we found a stable from Pennsylvania, including a horse that won two races at Omaha. In the end barn is a stable from Ti Juana, Old Mexico, that have been raced at all the big Western tracks from Canada to Mexico. After careful investigation we find that some of the best riding talent available will be seen in the saddle at the coming meet, in cluding Dick Seeville, who for five years was leading rider of America, Bill Sender, of Denver, Colo., for years the leading rider of the Pacific Coast, Roy Spicer of Iowa who is well known in the Western States, J. Prennell from Beatrice, Neb., with nine years in the saddle, P. Denby an apprentice boy, under control of I. E. McGregor, J. J. Reece, an old timer who had the distinction of winning the Memphis Derby three times, W. Snell a well known saddle artist from Quincy, Ill., Percy Wilson, Utica, New York, second best rider in Kentucky last year, Tom Conners, forty years in the saddle and still a top notcher, and many others well known in their work.

The following list of owners will make you think you are at the Kentucky Races: C. R. Scoville, Coffeyville, Kan., M. W. McElray, Marice, Ill., J. G. Chaney, Pittsburg, Kan., R. E. Spicer, Leon, Iowa, Carhill and Prisnell, Beatrice, Neb., J. A. McGregor, Ti Juana, Old Mexico(seven head), Mrs. N. F. Braden, Omaha Neb., A. Zowis, Omaha, U. Snell, Quincy, Ill., F. F. Rorland, Lincoln, Neb., Palmer and Palmer, H. Shields, Tulsa, Okla., M. H. Morrison, El Reno, Okla. and other large stables from all over the country.

The fair has secured the services of competent judges and starters that have served at the larger meetings in the East, and will assure you that the Races will be handled in the same way as the Big Races in Kentucky and New York. A Paddock is being erected in the center-field and all horses will be saddled in the Paddock, ten minutes before the race and then parade before the Grand Stand before going to the Post. The Starter will use a starting Gate or Barrier ,which gives every horse an equal chance and eliminates delay at the start.

For Free Attractions, the Fair has secured, aeroplanes with parachute jumpe and trapeze work from planes, automobile and motorcycle racing by real racing machines and dare-devil drivers, free acts and a larger Carnival Company than usual. If you want the full benefit of the races be sure to start in Tuesday and we know you will then be here all week, as the entertainment is great for every day.

HARDING WIRES GOVERNORS.

President Wants Mines Reopened and Guarantees Federal Aid.

"The White House, Washington, D. C., July 18, 1922.

"The proposal of the federal government to the United Mine Workers, and to the various coal operators whose mines are under suspension, to submit all questions in dispute to a national coal commission for arbitration, has been declined. The mine workers declined as a body. The majority of the bituminous operators pledged unqualified acceptance. The authracite operators filed unconditional acceptance. A minority of the bituminous operators accepted the principle of arbitration, but made specifications which could not be considered. I had proposed that the operators and mine workers in dispute should immediately resume coal production under the wage scales and working conditions which prevailed at the time of the strike last April; that every question in dispute should go to a national commission to be composed of three representatives of the mine workers, three representatives of the operators, and five representatives of the American public.

"It was proposed to make the commission the final authority on all disputes until next March, and meanwhile the commission was to inaugurate a searching inquiry into every phase of the coal industry, in order to recommend the way to maintained understanding between workmen and employers, to promote steady employment and assure a continued and ample fuel supply.

"The failure to secure the acceptance of this proposal for a voluntary adjustment left me no other course but to invite the mine operators to return to their mines and resume activities.

"I trust you will find it consistent to second this invitation, if you have not already done so, with the invitation to all miners and operators to resume their work. This invitation should be accompanied by such assurance of maintained order and the protection of lawful endeavor as will give assurance to everybody concerned. I want to convey to you in this message the assurance of the prompt and full support of the federal government whenever and wherever you find your own agencies of law and order inadequate to meet the situation.

"Your state government and the federal government are jointly responsible for maintained conditions under which free men, willing to work may work in safety. We are responsible for the production and the transportation of a fuel supply ample for the necessities of the American people and the public utilities which serve them particularly the railways engaged in interstate commerce. We must have ample coal to maintain industrial activity, we must have the coal necessary to the health, security and activity of all the people.

"I recite to you these details, because it is important to have understood how far the federal government has gone in seeking a voluntary adjustment. Thus far there has been no challenge of the right of workers to decline employment, or the right of the employers to hire as they elect.

"Our present duty is to guarantee security in the exercise of these rights, security in all lawful operations, and afford a safe opportunity for that production and distribution demanded by the necessities of the American people.

"There has been no government assumption of a part in the dispute between organized workers and organized employers. I did offer the only avialable agency which I know to effect a settlement, and these good offices have not availed.

"It becomes necessary, therefore, in the name of common welfare, to invite production, in the fulfillment of that obligation which attaches to any American industry engaged in providing a public necessity and to afford security to all men alike who are ready and willing to work and serve the common need. No cause is so important as that of common welfare, and there must be the suppression of every unlawful hindrance to the service of that cause. To the task of lawful protection and the maintenance of order the federal government pledges to you every assistance at its command.

"Warren G. Harding."

and 200 spring chickens.

Charles Carmichael.

Charles Carmichael makes a specialty at his farm, three miles west of Maryville, of roasting ear corn. He has three acres of Early Dakota and it is about ready for the market. It is a 70-day corn.

Mr. Carmichael farms extensively. He has 75 acres of wheat, 90 acres of corn and 25 acres of clover and timothy hay. Some of the wheat went down the White Cloud creek in the flood. It may be seen here and there hanging in trees, where the bundles were caught Some of the corn was overflown and damaged considerably.

Mr. Carmichael has forty-three spring pigs and six brood sows.

O. D. Walker.

O. D. Walker has at his place three miles southwest of Maryville 130 ewes and more than 100 lambs. G. W. Baker lives on the farm and takes care of the stock. Mr. Walker has 120 head of fattening hogs at the place, some of which are getting pretty heavy.

Mrs. Baker has 200 Buff Orpington hens and between 300 and 400 young chickens. Ninty-eight of these chickens are large enough to fry.

Robert Benefiel.

P. H. Finn.

P. H. Finn has 35 or 40 acres of wheat at his farm, southwest of Maryville. He also has about 35 acres of oats. The rain made the oats fields so wet that it is almost impossible to harvest the crop. The binder will scarcely run and it was said at the farm yesterday that it may be necessary to take a mower into the fields and harvest the rest of the crop in this way. Mr. Finn's has 200 acres in it. He has twenty hogs about ready for the market and a good quantity of corn carried over from last year.

H. T. Neidel.

H.T. Neidel, who lives on the George McMurry farm, southwest of Maryville, has an unusually heavy crop of oats, but the ground is still so wet that it is not possible to cut them all. He stopped his binder and was putting up the second cutting of alfalfa.

The oats crop is down some but Mr. Neidel thinks that he will be able to save it all if it does not rain any more for a while.

Mr. Neidel has 45 or 50 acres of corn and it is looking fine.

Mr. McMurry and John Deardoff have four Jersey cows at the place that Mr. Neidel is milking and caring for. Mrs. Neidel says that they furnish a lot of good milk and butter.

Stand right sale—I will sell the general stand rights of the Barnard Picnic for all three days, August 3-4-5, on Thursday, July 27 at 2 p. m., on the picnic grounds. L. B. Campbell, chairman of the grounds committee. 18-20

W. J. Staples had first Motor Car In Maryville---Was Home-made

The first motor car in Maryville and perhaps the first in Nodaway county was a product of local initiative turned out from local shops.

Twenty-four years ago W. J. Staples turned out of the Barmann and Wolfert blacksmith and woodmaking shop a crude machine which was the first attempt at an automobile here.

In 1898 Mr. Staples bought a three horse-power gasoline engine and placed it to a buggy which was equipped with solid rubber tired, thirty-two and thirty-four inch wheels. The new machine was steered by levers and was propelled by a belt transmission.

This odd looking machine was considered a moderate success at that time, inasmuch as it could attain the astonishing speed of three miles an hour in low and seven miles an hour in high.

After a year's service in this county the car was sold to a man in Kansas and Mr. Staples purchased the first car that was ever in Kansas City, a four horse steam locomobile.

This car was a real treat for the people in Maryville. It was run by steam which was stored in a vertical cylinder and made by means of a gasoline fire box with an automatic feed and shutoff.

Mr. Staples was invited to Cameron, to bring his new wonder and here he exhibited the machine for four days during the street fair. He was paid $10 a day and expenses for this exhibit and the freight on the car to and from Cameron were refunded to him. It cost the people, at that time, the sum of ten cents to enjoy a ride in the new horseless carriage.

During the period that Mr. Staples owned the car he made the record trip to St. Joseph in four hours time. On a return trip from one of the towns in the county, within four miles of Maryville and from then into town it took him an hour to complete the trip. The delay was due to the number of times that he had to stop and help people lead horses past the new machine. Two others were in the machine with Mr. Staples and while one covered the car from the sight of the horses the other two men led them past the danger.

S. T. C. STUDENTS MAY DO MORE WORKAWAY FROM SCHOOL

Are to Be Allowed to Do One-Fifth of Requirements for Degree or Certificate.

Beginning in September, according to the Green and White Courier, students in the State Teachers College will be allowed to do 24 hours in correspondence and extension, in place of 20 hours, as has been the custom in the past. This means that they will have to do but four-fifths of their work for a degree or certificate in residence in place of five-sixths as has been the custom. This arrangement was adopted for all the State Teachers Colleges of Missouri at the recent meeting of the presidents and deans, held in Kansas City.

Heretofore each of the State Teachers Colleges have made the residence requirement to suit themselves.

MEDICAL BILL TO STAND

Referendum Petition Lacks Sufficient Number of Signers

Jefferson City, July 19—The proposed referendum of the medical bill, passed by the legislature in 1920 and opposed by medical societies in the state was knocked out yesterday by the supreme court. In an opinion, the supreme court affirmed an injunction restraining Charles U. Becker from putting the medical bill referendum on the ballots.

The court held that the referendum petitions lacked about thirty names of having the required number, 3,513, in the fourth congressional district. The bill lowered the standards of physicians and surgeons, and was opposed vigorously by the state medical associations. Unable to defeat the bill, the cities carried the fight into the referendum, but lost, the ruling stated today, because of insufficiency of signatures on the referendum petitions.

HUGH WHITEFORD FAVORS TAKING FILMS TO FAIR

Hugh Whiteford, who lives three and a half miles southeast of Guilford, was in town yesterday on business. Mr. Whiteford, specializes in Hereford cattle and has one of the best herds in Nodaway County. One of his herd bulls, Parsival the 24th is an unusual animal and the Hereford Journal used his picture on the front cover October 1913 and the same picture was used as front cover decoration on Wallaces' Farmer January 29 issue in 1915.

Mr. Whiteford, will have Ralph Marcell take some movies of his herd next week and in speaking of the idea of taking the Nodaway County films to the state fair, Mr. Whiteford said, "A good state fair is of the utmost importance to the people of the state, and it is just as important to the people of Nodaway County that they be properly represented there. I believe the best method for the money is the pictorial presentation of our resources as it is now being prepared by the Maryville Chamber of Commerce, and I am sure there can be no doubt it will be a good thing to send the 4,000 feet of Nodaway County Films to the state fair. I am glad to contribute to the cause for the general good of the county."

Mr. Whiteford contributed $25.00

MISSOURI AND IOWA YEARLINGS AT $9.50

F. M. Thompson, Nodaway county, and E. O. Goodspeed, Taylor county, Ia., shared market topping honors on mixed yearlings steers and heifers today, says the St. Joseph Stock Yard Journal. Mr. Thompson disposed of 27 head of Herefords averaging 796 lbs. at $9.50. Mr. Goodspeeds consignment comprised 30 head of Angus, of his own raising and feeding, that averaged 793 lbs. and brought the same figure. The Thompson yearlings were also of his own raising and were conditioned for market on ration of whole ground corn, oats and timothy and clover hay.

H. A. Lemon of Nodaway County had 18 steers, 1067 pounds which brought $9.50. R. A. Turner, also of this county, sold a load of 798-lb. steers and heifers at $9.10.

RESULTS OF GENTRY COUNTY SURVEY POSTED AT COLLEGE.

The results of the Gentry county survey are posted in the glass case outside the general office at the State Teachers College. The data was collected by Prof. Bert Loomis during the last school year and compiled by the summer class in Tests and Measurements. Some interesting facts are revealed. M. S. CASTEEL CONSIDERING SUDAN IN OATS STUBBLE

Roy A. Kinnaird Thinks with the Amount of Moisture There Is in Ground It Would Make Crop

M. S. Casteel, northeast of Maryville, was consulting with Roy A. Kinnaird this morning as to the advisability of sowing Sudan grass this late in the season for a hay crop. Mr. Casteel said that he has found that he will be short of hay this year. He has a field of oats stubble which he plans on double discing and harrowing and then sowing in Sudan grass.

Mr. Kinnaird said that with the amount of moisture that there is in the ground at present this crop should make a good growth during the remainder of the season.

The Rev. C. R. Green and Mark Heflin, in the Harmony neighborhood, sowed Sudan grass on July 8 and it grew and made a crop.
